Chief Meteorologist

2018 – Present

- Holds full accountability for live forecast for the 3, 5, 5:30, 6, 10 and 11 weekday newscasts
- Provides 10 daily forecasts to four different radio partners
- Maintains daily forecast on station's website and authors the Sun Sentinel's daily forecast
- Manages personnel schedules, vacation, time-off requests and coverage for six meteorologists
- Consistently earns "Highest of all Broadcast Meteorologists" ranking in the West Palm Beach market, for social media interactions, according to weekly CrowdTangle data reports
- Achieved 20% and 18% increases in station Facebook and Twitter followers in just 14 months, by maintaining multiple daily social media posts including video engage posts, Twitter, Instagram and Facebook live reports
- Earned "#3 Google Search" ranking of word 'hurricane' between the end of August and early September and officially recognized for providing for nearly three days of continuous and life- saving on-air coverage during Hurricane Dorian
- In just eight days of intense training, coaching and shadowing, met targeted succession planning and backup personnel objectives by quickly training a reporter as an emergency back-up weather anchor
- Officially recognized amongst CrowdTangle, as the "#1 Breaking Weather Information" status, by streamlining master control, news and production process coordination and by authoring/implementing the first severe weather coverage, crawl and cut-in policies
- Successfully sourced in just six days of launch, by personally facilitating a nationwide search and hire of a new meteorologist
- Quickly and efficiently changed out all weather graphics with new Sinclair branding/graphics package early 2019
- Personally delivered $10,000 in cost savings by voluntarily working 40 days straight
